NEARLY 14,000 HAVE NEGLECTED TO PAY THEIR AUTO TAXES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, July 10.—Nearly 14,000 Minnesota automobile owners face arrest or confiscation of their machines for non-payment of auto tax.

Mike Holm, secretary of state, sent out this number of citations for persons listed as having cars but who have failed to register this year.

There are 1,200 delinquents in Ramsey county, 2,625 in Hennepin and about 1,000 in St. Louis county.

WEALTHY WRITER OF "THRILLERS" 50 YEARS AGO ENTERS INFIRMARY

Casstown, O., July 10.—Before a pitifully small collection of worldly goods stood a village auctioneer, in strident voice importuning a handful of country people to part with their dollars—thus starting the last chapter in the life of Tom C. Harbaugh, as fantastic an ending probably as he ever dreamed of when he was penning vivid fiction half a century ago.

In an autograph album, which sold for $60, was a letter from Mark Twain to Governor Frank Fuller, New York, dated in 1870 at Hartford, Conn., and which said:

"My Dear Fuller—Does the white mill need a new man who knows how to boss men? I know the right man, in case a boss should be wanted—a diligent, honest and plucky man. Never drinks, but can be taught. The letter was signed 'Mark.'"

Harbaugh, now almost 80, whose name was on the lips of readers of American "penny dreadfuls" when they were popular, was on his way to the Miami county infirmary today with the $1,000 which the sale brought.

In the days of Beadle's Dime Weekly, Beadle's Half Dime Weekly, the Saturday Night and such publications, the name of Tom C. Harbaugh was seen in most issues over a story of blood curdling adventure.

His name and that of Nick Carter often were linked together as writers of a kind.

Columns of sensational writing were turned out by Harbaugh, and at one time he was considered wealthy from the returns of his endeavors.

The autograph album which sold for $60 contained letters from eminent Americans, including Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt and Mark Twain.

SEARCH REDOUBLED FOR LOST AERONAUT

Port Stanley, Ont., July 10.—The search for Lieut. T. B. Null, missing from the ill-fated naval balloon A-6998, was redoubled today, following the discovery of the body of Lieut. L. J. Roth, his companion, fourteen miles from Port Stanley in Lake Erie yesterday.

Airplanes and all manner of water craft took up the search with the hope of finding the missing airman still alive. As long as Lieut. Null is missing there is a chance that he may not be dead, authorities here declared.

The body of Lieut. Roth, found floating in the basket of the balloon yesterday by the fishing boat Onagay and brought to Port Stanley, was taken to Cleveland last night by Lieut. James H. Strong in a hydroplane.

cation of Brainerd's $3,000 Tourist Park. Address by Mayor Con O'Brien, Park Board members, R. R. Wise, and other local and visiting speakers. Brainerd Municipal band to have its concert at Tourist Park.

Sunday, July 29.—While the official program of the association ends with Saturday night, all who can, should remain over Sunday and enjoy the fishing and sightseeing at various lakes of the Brainerd Lake Region.

RIVAL SUITORS QUESTIONED IN AWFUL MURDER

FRANK MUREN OF JOLIET, ILL., FOUND MAIMED AND STRANGLED TO DEATH

LEGS TIED WITH WIRE, BODY STRIPPED OF VALUABLES LAY IN HAYSTACK

(By United Press)
Joliet, Ill., July 10.—Rival suitors of the slain youth's sweetheart were questioned today by Sheriff John Walker in an attempt to solve the mysterious murder of Frank Muren, 20, whose body was found on an abandoned farm at Rockdale, near here.

Muren was strangled to death after being bound and maimed. His legs were tied with wire. The body was found under a haystack stripped of clothes and valuables.

Muren was returning from a visit at the home of Miss Margaret Haggerman, his pretty 18-year-old sweetheart, Sunday evening. He was forced to pass the farm where his body was found, on his way home.

Two men visited the Haggerman home on Saturday and were not seen later. They are being held incommunicado, Sheriff Walker said.

Walker abandoned the theory that Muren was murdered by an escaped convict who wanted his clothes.

Joliet penitentiary records show that no convict is missing there.

The wire about Muren was a quarter of an inch thick. He was strangled with his own shirt. An examination showed he had sustained a fractured skull.

2 COWS KILLED COAST TO COAST FLIGHT

(By United Press)
St. Joseph, Mo., July 10.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan today supervised the repairing of his "bullet pursuit plane" in which he made an unsuccessful attempt to fly from coast to coast, between dawn and dark Monday.

Maughan plans to fly back to New York tomorrow and try again next week to beat the sun in a race across the continent.

The aviator was not down-hearted. "I am disappointed, but not discouraged," he said.

"Results so far are satisfactory. I was in sight of the landing field here yesterday when I was forced to land because my gas feed stopped up."

"Even then I could have cleaned it out and gone ahead if two cows had not stopped in front of me as I skimmed the ground, forcing me to swerve sharply. That is what broke my landing gear."

REFINERS MAKE NEW CUT IN SUGAR PRICES

New York, July 10.—Another slash was made in the price of refined sugar in the market. Granulated was cut to 8.75 by one refiner. This is 1½¢ below the high price of the season. The drop was due to reoffering of 2,000 tons of refined sugar which had been shipped abroad and returned because no foreign market could be found. The slack domestic demand also was a contributing factor.

U. S. Steel Corporation Unfilled Tonnage Figures

New York, July 10.—The statement of the United States Steel Corporation of unfilled tonnage for June, issued today, shows a decrease of 595,090.

Unfilled tonnage on June 30 was 6,386,261 tons, against 6,981,351 May 31, 7,288,569 April 30, 1923, and 5,635,531 June 30, 1922.

Child Found Chained To Cot; Father Is Held

Sioux City, Iowa, July 10.—Carl Grinsavage was being held by police today on a charge of cruelty to children, the result of the finding Saturday night of his 4 year old son, John, chained to a cot in a barn. Grinsavage offered no explanation of the child's condition.

Officers were searching the Grinsavage home for articles alleged to have been stolen, when they heard a faint cry from the barn. Investigation revealed the child with a chain about the neck, emaciated and suffering from lacerations caused by the heavy links, the police declared. "Daddy did it," the boy is said to have told the officers.

EQUITY CO-OP. TO HAVE MATTERS UP IN THE COURTS

THIEL, FORMER SECRETARY OF EXCHANGE, SUES J. M. ANDERSON

CLAIMS $50,000 DAMAGE BECAUSE OF LATTER'S SPEECH AT ELMO

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, July 10.—G. A. Thiel, former secretary of the Equity Cooperative Exchange, today filed suit in Hennepin county district court against J. M. Anderson, former president of the exchange, for $50,000.

Mr. Thiel charges he was damaged to this extent in the late Elmo speech delivered last Friday night by Mr. Anderson when the latter condemned Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor candidate for United States senator, and urged election of Governor Preus, Republican nominee.

Anderson, Thiel and Johnson were officers of the Equity at the same time.

According to Mr. Thiel, Anderson is alleged to have charged Thiel with having cheated and defrauded stockholders and patrons of the Equity Co-operative Exchange by selling grain consigned to the Equity Co-operative Exchange by patrons thereof to dummy sales organization at a price less than actual market value thereof. It is claimed that Mr. Anderson charged Thiel with assisting in organization of this dummy sales organization.

It is further charged that Mr. Anderson said at Elmo that Mr. Thiel was an official of the Equity aided, assisted and established in operation a bucket shop contrary to the statutes of Minnesota.

Mr. Thiel says all these statements are absolutely false and were made by Anderson willfully and maliciously with deliberate purpose and intention of injuring Mr. Thiel's reputation and character.

He Gave Her Clothes, But That Didn't Save Him

(By United Press)
London, July 10.—Lavishly jeweled, dressed in the height of Paris fashion, with a green hat shading fascinating violet eyes in which there were no tears, Princess Marie Marguerite Fahmy, a French girl, was formally charged at Bow street, with murdering her husband, an Egyptian nobleman.

Princess Marie Marguerite, beautiful French bride of youthful Prince Ali-Kamel-Fahmy Bey of Egypt, was sent to jail today for the murder of her husband.

Bedecked with precious jewels, diamonds and ropes of pearls, the princess broke down as she was taken from the prisoners' dock at Bow street this afternoon, 13 hours after the prince, once a gay favorite of London and Paris society, was found bleeding from numerous wounds in the corridor of his suite in the Savoy.

1ST WHITE WOMAN SENTENCED TO BE HANGED IN CHICAGO

MRS. SABELLA NITTI-CRUDELLE COLLAPSES WHEN INFORMED OF HER FATE

SHE AND HUSBAND FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF WOMAN'S FIRST SPOUSE

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 10.—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, the first white woman sentenced to hang in Chicago, was kept ignorant today of the fate a jury prescribed for her.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle had heard the verdict read in court yesterday, but understanding only the Italian language, was lead back to her cell, where she was left to speculate on her fate.

Lawyers, interpreters, and jail matrons refused to give her any information other than that she was found guilty along with Frank Crudelle, her husband, of the murder of her first husband, Frank Nitti. They fear that she will collapse.

The woman knew the death penalty was asked. "Maybe they only give me five or ten years," she said. "Have they give me death? Well, if I die, I die. I didn't kill him."

Matrons at the jail shunned her, and several times the condemned woman was heard screaming hysterically in her cell.

"This verdict has made husband killing no longer a safe sport," Prosecutor Milton D. Smith declared. "The murder was cold-blooded, and Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle was treated like a cold-blooded murderer. That's just."

If the sentence is carried out, the woman will be the first executed in Chicago. Twenty-five years ago another woman, a mulatto, was given the death penalty, but her sentence was commuted.

Frank Nitti, the slayer's first husband, was found with his head crushed by a hammer. A son of the couple accused his mother and Crudelle.

Collapsed When She Hears Penalty

Chicago, July 10.—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, first white woman to be sentenced to death in Chicago, collapsed physically and mentally today when informed of her fate by her attorneys.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle and her husband, Frank Crudelle, were found guilty yesterday of the "hammer murder" of the woman's first husband, and both sentenced to hang.

The woman, an Italian, heard the verdict without understanding it. Authorities feared she would collapse if told that she was going to die, and she was placed back in her cell to speculate over her penalty until noon today.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle became hysterical and fell to the floor when Eugene Macon, her attorney, informed her through an interpreter of the verdict.

She was taken to Cook county hospital.

Coffman at Rochester To Undergo Operation

Minneapolis, July 10.—L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, was at the Mayo clinic at Rochester today for a minor operation on a throat ailment which had been bothering him for some time. The throat trouble developed into a chronic stage while President Coffman was at his summer home at Battle Lake, Minn., last week. Dr. Charles Mayo was expected to perform the operation, the president's office at the university reported. It will probably be 10 days before President Coffman will be able to resume his duties.

FARMER KILLS SELF BY DRINKING ACID; NO MOTIVE ASSIGNED

(By United Press)
Fergus Falls, Minn., July 10.—Olayus Hoyland, 55, farmer, committed suicide early today by drinking carbolic acid in his home at Prondhjen township, 12 miles northwest of here.

Despondency over ill health is believed to have been the motive for the suicide.

He is survived by his wife and three adopted daughters. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

PRETTY ITALIAN GIRL KIDNAPED

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 10.—Miss Philomana Costello, pretty 18-year-old Italian girl, was kidnaped by four men on a downtown street today. She was seized as she was boarding a street car. Her abductors raced away in an automobile.

STOCK BROKER ORDERED EXPELLED

(By United Press)
New York, July 10.—Harvey A. Willis, of Willis & Company, 32 Broadway, has been expelled from the Consolidated Stock Exchange, it was announced today.

TRAINS TO CUT TIME TO NORTH PACIFIC

SCHEDULE FOR TWO HOURS REDUCTION IN RUNS WILL START JULY 29

St. Paul, July 10.—Transcontinental fast passenger trains from Chicago to north Pacific coast cities will cut two hours from their running time, beginning July 29, and meet the competitive running time of trains from Chicago to the south Pacific cities, A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager of the Northern Pacific, said today.

The Northern Pacific, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Union Pacific and the Great Northern will make the change in schedule. The move is the outcome of a request by the Chamber of Commerce of Portland, Ore., that the much advertised "70 hour run to San Francisco" from Chicago be approximated by the Chicago-Portland trains.

The run to the north Pacific cities of Portland, Seattle and Tacoma from Chicago is made now in 72 hours. The run from Chicago to Los Angeles and San Francisco is done in from 68 to 70 hours, according to the announcement by the Northern Pacific.

"The announcement records another important step in transportation history for this northwest country," Mr. Smith said. "These faster trains will bring central and far western United States closer together than heretofore. By making travel easier and quicker, I hope these trains will contribute to the upbuilding and development of the northwest in even larger measure than in the past. Certainly, the northwest will have train service comparing most favorably with that of California or any other state. The growing importance of the Pacific northwest as a tourist objective justified the very best of railroad service the year around."

The runs from Chicago to San Francisco and from Chicago to Los Angeles are made in approximately the same time. Likewise, the runs to Portland by the Union Pacific and by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific through connection with their subsidiary, the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway, are approximately the same as the runs to Tacoma and Seattle by the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Milwaukee.

BOTH GIVE PREUS THEIR HEARTIEST SUPPORT IN RACE

SENATOR ROSENMEIER KNEW GOVERNOR FROM DAYS OF LAW SCHOOL

CONGRESSMAN KNUTSON SAYS COMING ELECTION IMPORTANT TO STATE AND NATION

At a dinner at the Ransford hotel Monday evening, republican workers assembled under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Quinn, member of the county committee and chairman for women's campaign in Brainerd, and the men and women present heard republican principles enunciated by Congressman Harold Knutson of the sixth district and Senator C. Rosenmeier of Little Falls, of the Morrison-Crow Wing counties district, and heard them both endorse in unqualified hearty terms the candidacy of Governor Preus for United States senator.

Senator Rosenmeier said he knew Governor Preus from the early days when both attended law school. He traced his course in the state, of how he rose to the governorship.

"He has made good in all these places," said Senator Rosenmeier. "At all times he has been sincere. He is the best man, among all the candidates for the position of senator. He is by far the best equipped."

Regarding the calling of the special election to determine the senatorship, Senator Rosenmeier said he himself was one to advise the governor that such a course was the only one to take. He quoted also F. E. Pike's statement about the necessity of calling such an election.

"This coming election July 16," said Senator Rosenmeier, "will be one of the hardest and most bitterly fought the Republican party has ever experienced."

Congressman Knutson's Speech

Congressman Knutson endorsed all that Senator Rosenmeier had said. He had been acquainted with the governor some fifteen years. In that time Preus had developed and was continually developing. The opposition was complaining, but there never was a time when the opposition can be entirely satisfied.

"The coming election is not only important to Minnesota, but to all the nation," said Congressman Knutson.

"Do we want a senator at Washington to enable the president to carry out his program or do you want to send one who will obstruct things?" queried the congressman. "I think I am a sane progressive," said the congressman.

He sketched in quick fashion the many things that President Harding had enunciated.

The congressman had no criticism to make of Magnus Johnson because he did not have the proper training in youth, but he did criticize him for having the ambition to aspire to such a position as senator.

He charged Johnson with favoring the repeal of the Esch-Cummins act. He understood further that Johnson was opposed to the world court.

"Johnson," said the congressman, "favors the white world dashing its head against the rocks of indifference. The role of disinterested spectator that America assumed in the past must be foregone."

"It is absolutely imperative that the republicans win this election on July 16th, as so much hinges on it. It is absolutely necessary to the welfare of the state and nation."

"If the people of Minnesota only knew these two men, Preus and Magnus Johnson, there would be no question," said the congressman.

Apathy was the chief thing to fear and he urged special efforts be made to get out the vote. The addresses of Senator Rosenmeier and Congress-

He Gave Her Clothes, But That Didn't Save Him

(By United Press)
London, July 10.—Lavishly jeweled, dressed in the height of Paris fashion, with a green hat shading fascinating violet eyes in which there were no tears, Princess Marie Marguerite Fahmy, a French girl, was formally charged at Bow street, with murdering her husband, an Egyptian nobleman.

Princess Marie Marguerite, beautiful French bride of youthful Prince Aly-Kamel-Fahmy Bey of Egypt, was sent to jail today for the murder of her husband.

Bedecked with precious jewels, diamonds and ropes of pearls, the princess broke down as she was taken from the prisoners' dock at Bow street this afternoon, 13 hours after the prince, once a gay favorite of London and Paris society, was found bleeding from numerous wounds in the corridor of his suite in the Savoy.

1ST WHITE WOMAN SENTENCED TO BE HANGED IN CHICAGO

MRS. SABELLA NITTI-CRUDELLE COLLAPSES WHEN INFORMED OF HER FATE

SHE AND HUSBAND FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF WOMAN'S FIRST SPOUSE

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 10.—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, the first white woman sentenced to hang in Chicago, was kept ignorant today of the fate a jury prescribed for her.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle had heard the verdict read in court yesterday, but understanding only the Italian language, was lead back to her cell, where she was left to speculate on her fate.

Lawyers, interpreters, and jail matrons refused to give her any information other than that she was found guilty along with Frank Crudelle, her husband, of the murder of her first husband, Frank Nitti. They fear that she will collapse.

The woman knew the death penalty was asked.

"Maybe they only give me five or ten years," she said. "Have they give me death? Well, if I die, I die. I didn't kill him."

Matrons at the jail shunned her, and several times the condemned woman was heard screaming hysterically in her cell.

"This verdict has made husband killing no longer a safe sport," Prosecutor Milton D. Smith declared. "The murder was cold-blooded, and Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle was treated like a cold-blooded murderer. That's just."

If the sentence is carried out, the woman will be the first executed in Chicago. Twenty-five years ago another woman, a mulatto, was given the death penalty, but her sentence was commuted.

Frank Nitti, the slayer's first husband, was found with his head crushed by a hammer. A son of the couple accused his mother and Crudelle.

Collapsed When She Hears Penalty

Chicago, July 10.—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, first white woman to be sentenced to death in Chicago, collapsed physically and mentally today when informed of her fate by her attorneys.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle and her husband, Frank Crudelle, were found guilty yesterday of the "hammer murder" of the woman's first husband, and both sentenced to hang.

The woman, an Italian, heard the verdict without understanding it. Authorities feared she would collapse if told that she was going to die, and she was placed back in her cell to speculate over her penalty until noon today.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle became hysterical and fell to the floor when Eugene Mascen, her attorney, informed her through an interpreter of the verdict.

She was taken to Cook county hospital.

Coffman at Rochester To Undergo Operation

Minneapolis, July 10.—L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, was at the Mayo clinic at Rochester today for a minor operation on a throat ailment which had been bothering him for some time. The throat trouble developed into a chronic stage while President Coffman was at his summer home at Battle Lake, Minn., last week. Dr. Charles Mayo was expected to perform the operation, the president's office at the university reported. It will probably be 10 days before President Coffman will be able to resume his duties.

FARMER KILLS SELF BY DRINKING ACID; NO MOTIVE ASSIGNED

(By United Press)
Fergus Falls, Minn., July 16.—Olavus Hoyland, 55, farmer, committed suicide early today by drinking carbolic acid in his home at Prondhjen township, 12 miles northwest of here.

Despondency over ill health is believed to have been the motive for the suicide.

He is survived by his wife and three adopted daughters. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

PRETTY ITALIAN GIRL KIDNAPED

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 10.—Miss Philomana Costello, pretty 18-year-old Italian girl, was kidnaped by four men on a downtown street today. She was seized as she was boarding a street car. Her abductors raced away in an automobile.

TRAINS TO CUT TIME TO NORTH PACIFIC

SCHEDULE FOR TWO HOURS REDUCTION IN RUNS WILL START JULY 29

St. Paul, July 10.—Transcontinental fast passenger trains from Chicago to north Pacific coast cities will cut two hours from their running time, beginning July 29, and meet the competitive running time of trains from Chicago to the south Pacific cities. A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager of the Northern Pacific, said today.

The Northern Pacific, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Union Pacific and the Great Northern will make the change in schedule. The move is the outcome of a request by the Chamber of Commerce of Portland, Ore., that the much advertised "70 hour run to San Francisco" from Chicago be approximated by the Chicago-Portland trains.

The run to the north Pacific cities of Portland, Seattle and Tacoma from Chicago is made now in 72 hours. The run from Chicago to Los Angeles and San Francisco is done in from 68 to 70 hours, according to the announcement by the Northern Pacific.

"The announcement records another important step in transportation history for this northwest country," Mr. Smith said. "These faster trains will bring central and far western United States closer together than heretofore. By making travel easier and quicker, I hope these trains will contribute to the upbuilding and development of the northwest in even larger measure than in the past. Certainly, the northwest will have train service comparing most favorably with that of California or any other state. The growing importance of the Pacific northwest as a tourist objective justifies the very best of railroad service the year around."

The runs from Chicago to San Francisco and from Chicago to Los Angeles are made in approximately the same time. Likewise, the runs to Portland by the Union Pacific and by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific through connection with their subsidiary, the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway, are approximately the same as the runs to Tacoma and Seattle by the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Milwaukee.

BOTH GIVE PREUS THEIR HEARTIEST SUPPORT IN RACE

SENATOR ROSENMEIER KNEW GOVERNOR FROM DAYS OF LAW SCHOOL

CONGRESSMAN KNUTSON SAYS COMING ELECTION IMPORTANT TO STATE AND NATION

At a dinner at the Ransford hotel Monday evening, republican workers assembled under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Quinn, member of the county committee and chairman for women's campaign in Brainerd, and the men and women present heard republican principles enunciated by Congressman Harold Knutson of the sixth district and Senator C. Rosenmeier of Little Falls, of the Morrison-Crow Wing counties district, and heard them both endorse in unqualified hearty terms the candidacy of Governor Preus for United States senator.

Senator Rosenmeier said he knew Governor Preus from the early days when both attended law school. He traced his course in the state, of how he rose to the governorship.

"He has made good in all these places," said Senator Rosenmeier. "At all times he has been sincere. He is the best man, among all the candidates for the position of senator. He is by far the best equipped."

Regarding the calling of the special election to determine the senatorship, Senator Rosenmeier said he himself was one to advise the governor that such a course was the only one to take. He quoted also P. E. Pike's statement about the necessity of calling such an election.

"This coming election July 16," said Senator Rosenmeier, "will be one of the hardest and most bitterly fought the Republican party has ever experienced."

Congressman Knutson's Speech

Congressman Knutson endorsed all that Senator Rosenmeier had said. He had been acquainted with the governor some fifteen years. In that time Preus had developed and was continually developing. The opposition was complaining, but there never was a time when the opposition could be entirely satisfied.

"The coming election is not only important to Minnesota, but to all the nation," said Congressman Knutson.

"Do we want a senator at Washington to enable the president to carry out his program or do you want to send one who will obstruct things?" queried the congressman.

"I think I am a sane progressive," said the congressman.

He sketched in quick fashion the many things that President Harding had enunciated.

The congressman had no criticism to make of Magnus Johnson because he did not have the proper training in youth, but he did criticize him for having the ambition to aspire to such a position as senator.

He charged Johnson with favoring the repeal of the Esch-Cummins act. He understood further that Johnson was opposed to the world court.

"Johnson," said the congressman, "favors the white world dashing its head against the rocks of indifference. The role of disinterested spectator that America assumed in the past must be foregone."

"It is absolutely imperative that the republicans win this election on July 16th, as so much hinges on it. It is absolutely necessary to the welfare of the state and nation."

"If the people of Minnesota only knew these two men, Preus and Magnus Johnson, there would be no question," said the congressman.

Apathy was the chief thing to fear and he urged special efforts be made to get out the vote. The addresses of Senator Rosenmeier and Congress-

First Vaudeville Act in New Park Theatre's Summer Program a Decided Success

The original Brown Saxaphone Sextette, the first vaudeville act in the New Park theatre's program, was a decided success.

The members of this saxaphone band proved themselves first class entertainers. Many novelty numbers were introduced, including imitations of birds and animals. The applause they received showed that their entertainment was highly pleasing. All of the instruments were of gold.

The management of the New Park has arranged to procure acts of this same calibre for Saturday and Sunday nights, in addition to the regular picture program throughout the summer whenever they are available.

It is hoped that Brainerd people will appreciate these efforts which are bringing big-time vaudeville acts to this theatre, and for which no expense is being spared.

Bookings have just been made for a number of special pictures to be shown during the summer season as follows: Jane Novak and John Bowers in "Divorce." This picture is not a preachment, but a great dramatic story of domestic life.

Booth Tarkington's "Penrod and Sam." You have all heard of the activities of these youngsters and their gang. This is an opportunity to see them in action. It is a celebrated one of the best kid pictures made. Guy Bates Post, the great legitimate star, will be seen in "The Masquerader." All have read the book, many have seen the play or heard of Post. He is better on the screen than he was on the stage.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," the greatest small-town story ever written, is coming to the New Park with an all-star cast. This story has been published in book form and run serially in the best periodicals. It will show to capacity houses in Brainerd.

The public is asked to watch the New Park's advertisements for announcements as to coming vaudeville and feature picture programs.

"Well," calmly adjusted Phil, "you can have your birthdays in the mornings and I'll have mine in the afternoons."

RUPTURE SHIELD
EXPERT HERE

MEINHARDT, WELL KNOWN IN THIS SPECIALTY, CALLED TO BRAINERD

E. J. Meinhardt, the well known expert from Chicago, will personally be at the Ransford Hotel, Brainerd, Minn., on Saturday only, July 14th.

Mr. Meinhardt says "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" will not only hold the rupture perfectly, but will contract the opening in ten days on the average case—usually giving instantaneous relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size and location of the rupture. This instrument is highly indorsed for producing results in the United States and foreign countries without the use of surgery, medical treatment, prescriptions or injections.

Caution: Ruptured persons should beware of old-style trusses with understraps. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump and not at the rupture opening. This often causes serious trouble resulting in strangulation and necessitating a surgical operation. Mr. Meinhardt will be glad to demonstrate free to all who call at the hotel from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., the unusually rapid results produced by "The Vacuum Shield." The largest and most difficult cases, those following operations, are especially desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section and he will be here for one date only.

Notice: Do not write asking to be fitted by mail as this is impossible. Every case must be seen personally. If interested, you must call at this hotel on the above date or come to Chicago. Home office 3935 W. North Ave., Chicago, Ill.

BROWN SAXAPHONE SEXTETTE

First Vaudeville Act in New Park Theatre's Summer Program a Decided Success

The original Brown Saxaphone Sextette, the first vaudeville act in the New Park theatre's program, was a decided success.

The members of this saxaphone band proved themselves first class entertainers. Many novelty numbers were introduced, including imitations of birds and animals. The applause they received showed that their entertainment was highly pleasing. All of the instruments were of gold.

The management of the New Park has arranged to procure acts of this same calibre for Saturday and Sunday nights, in addition to the regular picture program throughout the summer whenever they are available.

It is hoped that Brainerd people will appreciate these efforts which are bringing big-time vaudeville acts to this theatre, and for which no expense is being spared.

Bookings have just been made for a number of special pictures to be shown during the summer season as follows: Jane Novak and John Bowers in "Divorce." This picture is not a preachment, but a great dramatic story of domestic life.

Booth Tarkington's "Penrod and Sam." You have all heard of the activities of these youngsters and their gang. This is an opportunity to see them in action. It is acclaimed one of the best kid pictures made.

Guy Bates Post, the great legitimate star, will be seen in "The Masquerader." All have read the book, many have seen the play or heard of Post. He is better on the screen than he was on the stage.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," the greatest small-town story ever written, is coming to the New Park with an all-star cast. This story has been published in book form and run serially in the best periodicals. It will show to capacity houses in Brainerd.

The public is asked to watch the New Park's advertisements for announcements as to coming vaudeville and feature picture programs.

"Well," calmly adjusted Phil, "you can have your birthdays in the mornings and I'll have mine in the afternoons."

RUPTURE SHIELD EXPERT HERE

MEINHARDT, WELL KNOWN IN THIS SPECIALTY, CALLED TO BRAINERD

E. J. Meinhardt, the well known expert from Chicago, will personally be at the Ransford Hotel, Brainerd, Minn., on Saturday only, July 14th.

Mr. Meinhardt says "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" will not only hold the Rupture perfectly, but will contract the opening in ten days on the average case—usually giving instantaneous relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size and location of the Rupture. This instrument is highly indorsed for producing results in the United States and foreign countries without the use of surgery, medical treatment, prescriptions or injections.

Caution: Ruptured persons should beware of old-style trusses with understraps. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump and not at the rupture opening. This often causes serious trouble resulting in strangulation and necessitating a surgical operation. Mr. Meinhardt will be glad to demonstrate free to all who call at the hotel from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., the unusually rapid results produced by "The Vacuum Shield." The largest and most difficult cases, those following operations, are especially desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section and he will be here for one date only.

Notice: Do not write asking to be fitted by mail as this is impossible. Every case must be seen personally. If interested, you must call at this hotel on the above date or come to Chicago. Home office 3935 W. North Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A GREAT INDUSTRY

Second Only in the Nation to Agriculture, Which is the Basic Industry

ARE 265,000 MILES OF RAILWAY

Freight Moved in a Year, If Loaded In One String of Cars, Would Be 312,000 Miles Long

The following article embodies a paper read by W. H. Gemmell, president of the Minnesota & International railway, at a meeting of the Rotary Club.

Our entire policy of regulation of railways has been predicated on the assumption that the way to keep railway rates low is to limit as narrowly as possible the net return earned. I challenge that assumption as without foundation. I maintain, on the contrary, that the surest way in the long run to keep railway rates unnecessarily high is to continue the policy of keeping the net return of the railways as low as possible. Are railway rates so high now because the railways are earning a large net return? Far from it. The net return derived by them in 1921 from handling practically the same traffic as in 1916 was almost a half billion dollars less than they received in 1916, although the rates charged were much higher. That the rates had to be so high and the net return earned was so small were due to exactly the same cause, namely, that the operating expenses in 1921 were $2,300,000,000 larger than in 1916. Substantial and permanent reductions of rates cannot be secured by reducing or holding down the net return of the railroads, but must be obtained, if at all, by a large and permanent reduction of operating expenses.

Now, there are two ways to get a large and permanent reduction of expenses. One is so obvious that everybody thinks of it. This is thru reductions of the prices the railways pay for fuel and materials and of the wages that they pay to labor. Some reductions in prices and wages have been secured but we have now reached the point where wages are again advancing. Other reductions are constantly being sought and doubtless will be secured.

What is this other way? The most outstanding fact regarding business in this country is that our industries now produce, and always have produced, many things at lower cost than they are produced in other countries while paying higher wages. We have seen many of our industries, including our railroads, for considerable periods pay higher and higher wages to labor, and at the same time secure lower and lower production costs and make lower prices.

How was it done? It was done by making improvements in plants and methods which rendered it practicable constantly to turn out a larger product without any corresponding increase, or with an actual reduction, in the number of men employed. But how were these improvements, which effected such large economies in many lines of business, made? They were made by the investment of additional capital for the express purpose of effecting economies. Where did the concerns that made these improvements get the new capital? In every single instance they either got it out of their net earnings, or they induced people who had it to loan it to them or invest it in their stocks by showing that their present and prospective net return justified the belief that they would be able to pay satisfactory interest and dividend. All the great and permanent economies in production which have been made in this country have been effected mainly by investments in improvements that have reduced the amount of fuel, materials and labor that have had to be used to secure a given output.

Now, how can the railways be enabled to make the lowest practicable rates in future? Only by enabling them to effect the greatest practicable economies in the production of transportation. But it will always be true that they will be able to effect the greatest practicable economies only if they are able to make improvements which will enable them to produce transportation with the smallest practicable consumption of fuel and materials and the employment of the smallest practicable amount of labor. They cannot make these improvements unless they can raise new capital with which to make them; and they cannot raise new capital unless they can show that their current and prospective net return is sufficient to justify investors in loaning them money and buying their stocks. It necessarily follows that if you and other patrons of the railways insist now and in future, as you have successfully insisted in the past, upon their net return being so limited that they will be unable to raise sufficient capital to make all the improvements in their plants needed you will prevent them from effecting all the economies practicable, and thereby yourselves render it impossible for them to make as low rates as they otherwise could make. They have to charge higher rates today than they would have had to charge if their net return had not been kept so low in the past.

AMUSEMENTS

"Lights of N. Y." at Lyceum

Scenes of gaiety on the gayest of New York's avenues and life in the most squalid quarters of New York's East Side, have been woven in a masterly manner in the stupendous William Fox production, "Lights of New York," which is now showing at the Lyceum theatre. It is difficult to lay a finger definitely on the element in this truly remarkable photoplay which makes the greatest bid for interest, but it is safe to say that no other picture has ever maintained a greater degree of gripping suspense. At times the suspense approaches perilously near that point where the nervous tension must snap. One can feel the eyes straining in an attempt to see beyond the picture.

Judge Sacrifices Woman on Altar of Ambition

A woman sacrificed upon the altar of man's selfish ambitions. This is the central theme of "Slander the Woman," Allen Holubar's new First National super-production with Dorothy Phillips in the stellar role, which will be shown at the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

In this latest screen triumph, Director Holubar has shown that wealth and social position are nothing

Dorothy Phillips
"Slander the Woman"

ing compared to the fair name of a woman. In the poignant, soul-stirring manner characteristic of all his work, Director Holubar shows how circumstances are twisted by an ambitious judge to secure his own rise in the world, and how in so doing he robs a woman of her most sacred heritage—a fair name.

There is no false sentimentality about "Slander the Woman." It is a drama of the present day, based upon actual life. The story of the play is laid in Canada. A woman, Yvonne Desmarest, portrayed by Dorothy Phillips, becomes involved in a murder through no fault of her own. At the trial Judge Durocher presides. He is a candidate at the forthcoming parliamentary election and he sees in the trial an opportunity to win popularity through branding Mlle. Desmarest as "the other woman." The widow of the man killed is acquitted of the crime, and Yvonne is socially ostracized. With stirring effect the story tells how Yvonne makes a winning fight for justice.

"The Pride of Palomar" Scheduled for Showing Here

Peter B. Kyne's "Pride of Palomar," besides appearing in book form, ran as a serial in Cosmopolitan magazine. It is familiar to many thousands, and the announcement that it has been produced on the screen by Cosmopolitan Productions for Paramount is one which will greatly interest local picture fans. The picture comes to the Lyceum theatre for two days, commencing tomorrow.

The picture has a powerful theme. It deals with the struggle of a young Californian for possession of the family ranch in California against the father of the girl he loves. The girl, played by Marjorie Daw, has to face the consequences of her stand between her father and her lover, and it is absorbing and thrilling to see how she solves the problem.

The Concentrated Angler.

A gentleman hesitates to bother anybody whose mind is concentrated on his fishing. The expert knows by experience one question leads to another, then on to begging, borrowing or buying. The expert knows that tyros are never provided with tackle, bait, or reasonable consideration for others. They expect the whole host of anglers to wait on them because they catch no fish.—Louis Rhead.

Contracts for engines and railroad stocks for foreign and Colonial customers have been booked by British firms in such volume as to keep their engineers and laborers hard at work for months to come. Beardmore and Company of Glasgow have obtained an order for the reconstruction of repairing workshops of Portuguese railroads and are making 27 locomotives and 3,350 pairs of wheels for Indian railroads. Beyer, Peacock and Company, Ltd., of Gorton, Manchester, have booked an order for 30 locomotives from the East Indian Railway company. Beardmore and Company also will make three engines for East Burmah, and the Vulcan company of Manchester is manufacturing 35 locomotives for India. Altogether British engineering firms have recently booked orders from abroad for close upon $10,000,000.

Soap Making.

The art of soap making is very old. Pliny refers in his writings to both hard and soft soap. Remains of a soap maker's shop were discovered in the ruins of Pompeii. Before the invention of soap making the juices of certain plants were used as cleansing agents. Fuller's earth was also used, the method being to spread it over the garment to be cleaned and then to stamp it in with the feet.

A VOICE FROM NORTH DAKOTA

A VOICE in North Dakota stirred the legislature of that state which, in turn, when its voice had been raised in criticism of conditions in another state, led to a ringing protest from all sections of the United States. Peonage in Florida was revealed to the world, and the demand that called for the end of an iniquitous system was so strong that Florida heeded it and ordered the abolition of the use of the lash in prison camps and the end of the convict leasing system.

The name of Thomas Walter Higginbotham became identified with cruelty and barbarism and the public and press called for his trial and conviction. A wave of disgust swept over the nation, as the details of whippings that led to the death of Martin Tabert, were made known. It is true that the public sometimes wondered if the stories told were veracious or utterances that were born of the disordered imagination of men who had been abused. Because they could scarcely believe that such things could be, in the twentieth century, in a land that boasts of its civilization, the public was inclined to await the decision of a jury called to consider the evidence in the case. That jury has returned its verdict which convicts the accused of murder in the second degree.

Two good things have resulted from the protest of a voice in North Dakota: the system of peonage is ended in Florida and the man who brutally whipped a prisoner, with such violence that he died as a result of the whipping, must pay the penalty, that is, unless a higher court throws out the verdict. The case leads to a consideration of the responsibility of a man within a system and raises the question as to just how much a man may be relieved of individual responsibility because he is a part of a system that is wrong. It is established that the system in Florida encouraged such violence as that practiced by Thomas Walter Higginbotham but it would not be fair to assume that he demanded that he act as brutally as the evidence proves that he acted. This is clearly a case of a bad man in an evil system and both are condemned by the evidence submitted. The system is ended and the brutal servant of the system must pay the penalty. And all this has come to pass because a citizen of North Dakota had a sense of the dignity of human life, even though that human life was lived by a prisoner, and having this consciousness of human values expressed his disapproval of the wrongs committed in Florida. When the wrongs of the social organism are pointed out, public sentiment is ready to demand their correction, and the means of redress is in the hands of the people. This citizen of North Dakota had a sense of responsibility and he took upon himself the task of seeing to it that a story of inhuman treatment should be thoroughly investigated, and his assumption of his duty as a citizen has resulted in a forward movement in a state that, but for his outspoken criticism, might have gone on with its peonage in which brutal men were permitted to practice their brutality.

FRANCE ADOPTS NAVAL POWER PACT

AFTER 20 months France has made a belated decision and has become a party to the naval power pact drawn up in Washington where representatives of the nations gathered at the invitation of the president of the United States. The decision of the chamber of deputies, which is almost certain to be concurred in by the senate, will be gratifying to the president of the United States and to those nations that met in conference to arrange the terms of the pact.

The adoption of this naval agreement by the chamber of deputies will relieve France of criticism from other nations, that have been inclined to accuse the French government of harboring militaristic ideas. The French policy as manifested in the Ruhr valley has not been calculated to lead to the conclusion that France is ready to introduce other methods than those of force, but perhaps France may understand the German psychology as well or better than her critics.

It is certain that some of the criticisms of the French policy come from sources that rob them of much of their sting. Lloyd George is one of the most outspoken critics of France at this time, and yet history discloses the fact that he had a great deal to do with the treaty of Versailles which is largely responsible for the French attitude at this time. History further proves that the position taken by Lloyd George today is strangely different from his policies when he was in control of the affairs of Great Britain. It is not so long ago that British forces were facing Turkish forces in the Near East and the situation was so critical that the officer in command of the British forces said in Constantinople, according to an American traveler who was present, that one shot would have issued in another world war. But at this time, when France has a strong military machine which constitutes a threat to other powers, the ex-premier of Britain is talking loudly about the danger of military force, and the fact that nothing can be accomplished by force which contains the threat of an outbreak of hostilities between peoples. It looks very much like a matter of appreciating force when one's own forces are ascendant and repudiating force when one's own forces are not equal to those of another power.

Probably the French attitude is wrong, that is when it is considered apart from the facts that called for the attitude taken. But Germany's position must be taken into consideration when attempts are made to judge French policy.

There is hope for a better future in France's decision to accept the terms of the naval pact. Not in a minute will victory be won over the voices that demand that nations seek military and naval supremacy, and those who have used such forces in the past are not able champions of a new order, like David of old they may wish to build the temple of peace, to hear the voice of a prophet saying that they must leave the building of the temple to others whose hands are not stained with blood.

Those who lead the people on the road to peace will not be politicians or concessionaires but men who are of the people and speak the language of the people. The Washington pact—forward looking though it be—was a pact made by diplomats and economists. It was a reduction-in-armaments pact and not a peace pact. The world's peace pact will be written by representatives of the people themselves and not by representatives of governments as governments are today.

BRYAN PUTS FOUR PLANKS IN THE PLATFORM

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN has four planks upon which the democrats may stand in 1924. They are good, strong planks, if they are to be used to serve as a platform for the insurgents in the nation. But there is nothing much about them that would indicate that they are better than those of the republican party.

Mr. Bryan tells the world that the farmers are in a bad way. They have known this for some time, and republican governors and congressmen have been doing their best to improve the farmer's lot. The "Commoner" says that something must be done to improve the situation, and that is what others have been saying for some time and they have not only said it, they have been working at it.

The three-times-candidate for the presidency says that something must be done to settle disputes between capital and labor before these result in strikes and lockouts. This also is a well known fact, and in states like Kansas something has been done and the something is not working any too well. Secretary J. J. Davis, in cooperation with Secretary Herbert Hoover, have been working on this problem and just at present there are no grave industrial disturbances.

Joining his voice to that of the radical interests in the country Mr. Bryan tells the people that the Federal Reserve bank is in the hands of Wall street. There are many who will believe him and many of these will wonder why representatives of his party have been silent as it was being swallowed up. Attacking Wall street is a pleasant pastime in these days.

But Mr. Bryan has yet another important fact to disclose. He says that there are profiteers abroad in the land. Doubtless that is true, and it is further true that profiteering in a big way had its birth when Mr. Bryan was a part of the Wilson administration. He was where he might have resisted the initial efforts of profiteers who, getting along splendidly during the Wilson regime, have been hard to kill off by the Harding administration that found them quite healthy and ambitious.

Mr. Bryan has told the country nothing that it did not already know, nor has he told it anything relative to how the wrongs are to be corrected. He names the symptoms but does not offer a cure.

AN investigator who is on the staff of the New York Daily News has dissected the United States Steel corporation and has failed to find its soul.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER is 84 and is spending his money in lumps and lumps. If he lives on for a number of years he won't have much left.

AND now it's Irene Castle Tremaine who is in the limelight. Her husband is not with her at present and Irene is troubled about it.

Other Speakers

Other speakers were Crow Wing County Chairman D. D. Schraeder of Brainerd, who said the farmers were daily switching to Preus.

Mrs. W. C. Cobb, who praised President Harding's comprehensive program and said that Preus was needed as senator to strengthen that program.

R. R. Wise, who praised the efficiency shown by Preus.

A. G. Trommald, who urged support of Preus.

Dr. J. A. Thabes who commended Preus as a man of ability and thoroughly honest.

Mons. Mahlum who said it had been his privilege for years to be a friend of Preus.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes, who spoke on women's plans for campaigning.

Mrs. E. J. Quinn, chairman, urged an intensive block system campaign in Brainerd, those present agreeing to assist in getting out the vote of each city block.

STORMS AFFECT THE SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN

St. Paul, July 10.—Storms today stopped up the senatorial campaign and set candidates back a notch in their efforts to shake Minnesota voters out of hot weather apathy.

Cooler temperatures with a high ratio of humidity helped some.

Governor Preus shaken up slightly when another car crashed into his automobile near Belle Plaine yesterday, returned to the Twin Cities to do what he could to bring out a heavy vote next Monday. A light vote is the only thing he fears.

"If the good Republicans get out and vote, we shall win by a good margin when the votes are counted Monday night," he said.

The Farmer-Labor party also seeks a heavy vote in the rural districts. Magnus Johnson, their nominee for the seat of the late Senator Knute Nelson, polled just a few votes less than Governor Preus in the primary last month. He had only two opponents, however, while the governor, choice of the Republican administration, had eight opponents for the nomination.

State Senator James A. Carley, Democratic nominee, isn't making as much noise as his friends expected with his bid for the "wet" support. The Democratic minority, from developments so far, has created no drawing power except in staid Democratic quarters and among those who feel with Senator Carley that the prohibition amendment should be upheld to the letter, but that a little liberal interpretation should be placed on the Volstead enforcement act.

"You were in the man's arms when his wife shot him?" cried the prosecutor, pointing the finger of scorn at her. "Yes! Yes! But let me explain—" she answered in terror. "Answer only the question," roared the judge, and as though splattered by the mud of the streets, she knew that all she cared for was lost—But here begins the real story, a drama that sweeps from courtroom and aristocratic ancestral halls to the far reaches of the north—the tremendous drama of a woman's love and a woman's vengeance.

A VOICE FROM NORTH DAKOTA

A VOICE in North Dakota stirred the legislature of that state which, in turn, when its voice had been raised in criticism of conditions in another state, led to a ringing protest from all sections of the United States. Peonage in Florida was revealed to the world, and the demand that called for the end of an iniquitous system was so strong that Florida heeded it and ordered the abolition of the use of the lash in prison camps and the end of the convict leasing system.

The name of Thomas Walter Higginbotham became identified with cruelty and barbarism and the public and press called for his trial and conviction. A wave of disgust swept over the nation, as the details of whippings that led to the death of Martin Tabert, were made known. It is true that the public sometimes wondered if the stories told were veracious or utterances that were born of the disordered imagination of men who had been abused. Because they could scarcely believe that such things could be, in the twentieth century, in a land that boasts of its civilization, the public was inclined to await the decision of a jury called to consider the evidence in the case. That jury has returned its verdict which convicts the accused of murder in the second degree.

Two good things have resulted from the protest of a voice in North Dakota: the system of peonage is ended in Florida and the man who brutally whipped a prisoner, with such violence that he died as a result of the whipping, must pay the penalty, that is, unless a higher court throws out the verdict. The case leads to a consideration of the responsibility of a man within a system and raises the question as to just how much a man may be relieved of individual responsibility because he is a part of a system that is wrong. It is established that the system in Florida encouraged such violence as that practiced by Thomas Walter Higginbotham but it would not be fair to assume that he demanded that he act as brutally as the evidence proves that he acted. This is clearly a case of a bad man in an evil system and both are condemned by the evidence submitted. The system is ended and the brutal servant of the system must pay the penalty. And all this has come to pass because a citizen of North Dakota had a sense of the dignity of human life, even though that human life was lived by a prisoner, and having this consciousness of human values expressed his disapproval of the wrongs committed in Florida. When the wrongs of the social organism are pointed out, public sentiment is ready to demand their correction, and the means of redress is in the hands of the people. This citizen of North Dakota had a sense of responsibility and he took upon himself the task of seeing to it that a story of inhuman treatment should be thoroughly investigated, and his assumption of his duty as a citizen has resulted in a forward movement in a state that, but for his outspoken criticism, might have gone on with its peonage in which brutal men were permitted to practice their brutality.

FRANCE ADOPTS NAVAL POWER PACT

AFTER 20 months France has made a belated decision and has become a party to the naval power pact drawn up in Washington where representatives of the nations gathered at the invitation of the president of the United States. The decision of the chamber of deputies, which is almost certain to be concurred in by the senate, will be gratifying to the president of the United States and to those nations that met in conference to arrange the terms of the pact.

The adoption of this naval agreement by the chamber of deputies will relieve France of criticism from other nations, that have been inclined to accuse the French government of harboring militaristic ideas. The French policy as manifested in the Ruhr valley has not been calculated to lead to the conclusion that France is ready to introduce other methods than those of force, but perhaps France may understand the German psychology as well or better than her critics.

It is certain that some of the criticisms of the French policy come from sources that rob them of much of their sting. Lloyd George is one of the most outspoken critics of France at this time, and yet history discloses the fact that he had a great deal to do with the treaty of Versailles which is largely responsible for the French attitude at this time. History further proves that the position taken by Lloyd George today is strangely different from his policies when he was in control of the affairs of Great Britain. It is not so long ago that British forces were facing Turkish forces in the Near East and the situation was so critical that the officer in command of the British forces said in Constantinople, according to an American traveler who was present, that one shot would have issued in another world war. But at this time, when France has a strong military machine which constitutes a threat to other powers, the ex-premier of Britain is talking loudly about the danger of military force, and the fact that nothing can be accomplished by force which contains the threat of an outbreak of hostilities between peoples. It looks very much like a matter of appreciating force when one's own forces are ascendant and repudiating force when one's own forces are not equal to those of another power.

Probably the French attitude is wrong, that is when it is considered apart from the facts that called for the attitude taken. But Germany's position must be taken into consideration when attempts are made to judge French policy.

There is hope for a better future in France's decision to accept the terms of the naval pact. Not in a minute will victory be won over the voices that demand that nations seek military and naval supremacy, and those who have used such forces in the past are not able champions of a new order, like David of old they may wish to build the temple of peace, to hear the voice of a prophet saying that they must leave the building of the temple to others whose hands are not stained with blood.

Those who lead the people on the road to peace will not be politicians or concessionaires but men who are of the people and speak the language of the people. The Washington pact—forward looking though it be—was a pact made by diplomats and economists. It was a reduction-in-armaments pact and not a peace pact. The world's peace pact will be written by representatives of the people themselves and not by representatives of governments as governments are today.

BRYAN PUTS FOUR PLANKS IN THE PLATFORM

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN has four planks upon which the democrats may stand in 1924. They are good, strong planks, if they are to be used to serve as a platform for the insurgents in the nation. But there is nothing much about them that would indicate that they are better than those of the republican party.

Mr. Bryan tells the world that the farmers are in a bad way. They have known this for some time, and republican governors and congressmen have been doing their best to improve the farmer's lot. The "Commoner" says that something must be done to improve the situation, and that is what others have been saying for some time and they have not only said it, they have been working at it.

The three-times-candidate for the presidency says that something must be done to settle disputes between capital and labor before these result in strikes and lockouts. This also is a well known fact, and in states like Kansas something has been done and the something is not working any too well. Secretary J. J. Davis, in cooperation with Secretary Herbert Hoover, have been working on this problem and just at present there are no grave industrial disturbances.

Joining his voice to that of the radical interests in the country Mr. Bryan tells the people that the Federal Reserve bank is in the hands of Wall street. There are many who will believe him and many of these will wonder why representatives of his party have been silent as it was being swallowed up. Attacking Wall street is a pleasant pastime in these days.

But Mr. Bryan has yet another important fact to disclose. He says that there are profiteers abroad in the land. Doubtless that is true, and it is further true that profiteering in a big way had its birth when Mr. Bryan was a part of the Wilson administration. He was where he might have resisted the initial efforts of profiteers who, getting along splendidly during the Wilson regime, have been hard to kill off by the Harding administration that found them quite healthy and ambitious.

Mr. Bryan has told the country nothing that it did not already know, nor has he told it anything relative to how the wrongs are to be corrected. He names the symptoms but does not offer a cure.

AN investigator who is on the staff of the New York Daily News has dissected the United States Steel corporation and has failed to find its soul.

PANIC DOORS FOR THE SCHOOLS

School Board at Special Meeting
Orders Same Installed in Each School

VARIOUS BIDS ARE CONSIDERED
Improvements at Harrison Building
Will Give a Fine Assembly
Room

One of the most important actions taken at the special meeting of the Brainerd school board on Monday night was that to install panic doors in all entrances to each school building in the city.

This means that new vestibules and doors will be put in, and changes made in the entrances as may be required. This is the direct result of the visit of a committee from the Minnesota Fire Prevention Association, which inspected the school buildings last winter, bringing the matter to the attention of the board, and recommending the action which is being taken.

The board accepted bids for the furnishing of hardware for these new doors and vestibules of the Von Douprin make, considered to be one of the best in this line, and the secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for the installation of this work.

One of the purposes of Monday evening's meeting was to open bids for the fitting up of three additional rooms for school purposes, to receive further reports from the building committee and for consideration and action on same.

The bids for fitting up the school rooms were ordered returned to the bidders unopened, and the secretary was directed to re-advertise for this work, the new bids to be opened at the July 20th meeting of the board.

The building committee was authorized to place folding doors between the two north rooms on the second floor of the Harrison building. This action was taken so that the people of Southeast Brainerd will be given an assembly room similar to the one provided last year by the board in the Lowell school for the convenience of Northeast Brainerd residents.

All members of the board were present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson and Fred Drexler.

SCOUT COUNCIL IS ORGANIZED

Formal Steps Taken Monday Evening by Those Interested in County Boy Scout Matters

OFFICERS ARE NAMED

Reports Made by Committees, Financing Plans Completed, Scout Executive Engaged

The Crow Wing County Council, Boy Scouts of America, held a meeting at the Civic & Commerce Association rooms Monday evening, when President Carl Zapffe explained the steps necessary to complete the permanent organization.

A committee composed of President Zapffe, Vice President W. A. Erickson and E. J. Quinn will complete and send in necessary application to the National Council and they were authorized to draw on the treasury for the necessary registration fees.

Dr. C. G. Nordin, chairman of the finance committee, is preparing a budget for the council.

Scout Commissioner John E. Woodhead was elected representative of the local council to the national council.

W. H. Gemmell, announced the following appointments on the Court of Honor of which he is chairman: J. P. Anderson, John Holvick, Dr. J. A. Thabes, George D. LaBar, Louis Knutsen and Prof. W. C. Cobb.

W. A. M. Johnstone was elected second vice president.

It was decided that all bids should be O. K'd by the party contracting, the debt and by the chairman of the finance committee before payment is made by Treasurer John A. Hoffbauer.

President Zapffe is to complete negotiations with the Civic & Commerce association for desk room for the executive secretary.

A contract will be made with E. W. Stimble, scout executive, for six months with renewal clause for the next six months. President Zapffe reported that the new scout executive was now in charge of the camp.

Mr. Zapffe further reported he had visited the camp at Long lake and had a talk with the boys and the majority were well pleased with the experiences they were having. They said they had learned many useful and interesting things the first week. When the boys were questioned as to whether they got enough to eat there was a chorus of "Yes." "Everything is fine," "The best ever," etc. The past week has been a busy one for Mr. Stimble and Mr. Andrews in getting everything in good running order and now that this has been accomplished more time can be devoted to games and amusements for the boys.

Mosquito netting has been ordered and will be placed over the tents as soon as possible, which will relieve the unfortunate circumstance of having a big crop of mosquitoes at this time.

Other members who have visited the camp are John A. Hoffbauer, W. A. M. Johnstone, John F. Woodhead, W. H. Gemmell, Rev. E. A. Cooke.

STORM DOES NO DAMAGE AT CAMP

In Fact It Brought a Large Influx of Tourists Who Found Site a Haven

PRAISE HEARD FOR NEW PARK

L. G. Lewis of Albert Lea Said He Had Seen No Camp to Compare With That of Brainerd

The Brainerd tourist camp passed through the storm of Monday evening with no bad effects, although quite a little hail fell during the early part of the evening. The storm brought in a number of tourists who would otherwise have camped along the road, and the camp site was taxed to its utmost capacity.

L. G. Lewis, of the Lewis Printing Company of Albert Lea, one of the guests at the park, was loud in his praise of Brainerd's accommodations for travelers, stating that in his tour of the state, he has seen no camp that compares with the local equipment. Visitors are advertising this fact, says Mr. Lewis, and the city will benefit more from this than from any other form of publicity.

Following is the list of tourists who registered at the camp site on Monday, July 9th:

Camp Site Pictured in St. Paul Sunday Paper

Brainerd's tourist camp received special mention in last Sunday's St. Paul Pioneer Press in the form of an article accompanied by two pictures of the camp. In part the article stated:

"Brainerd's new tourist camp, which is to be known as Visitors' Park, will be dedicated formally when the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association meets in that city July 28th. A fish dinner will constitute one of the principal features of the opening exercises.

"The camp is near the heart of the business section of the city, in a fine grove on the uplands of the Mississippi river, and is one of the most complete and up-to-date motor camp sites in Minnesota.

"The park is provided with so many conveniences that it is with difficulty that the caretaker can keep out Brainerd folk intent on picknicking there.

"There are many large canopy-top tables provided with built-in seats, every table having a gas range so protected that the wind will not cause the flames to flare. Mains to these stoves have been laid by the Brainerd Gas & Electric company, and gas is supplied to tourists free of charge.

"City water is supplied also, and close by are concrete buildings equipped with shower baths and other conveniences that will be appreciated by motor tourists.

"Though the dedication exercises will not take place until July 28th the park is already available for motorists and many of them like the camp so well that they have remained for several days, visiting the numerous outing places and fishing in the lakes near Brainerd."

Two Killed; Struck by Passenger Train

(By United Press)
Ypsilanti, Mich., July 10.—Two men were instantly killed here today when they were struck by a Michigan Central passenger train, number 17, westbound.

The men were John Carmen, 54, and Will Carmen, 56, brothers, both of whom live here.

A freight train going east on a parallel track made so much noise the men did not hear the passenger train behind them, it was declared.

BULL "ZEUS OF PORTAGE LAKE"

Registered Guernsey Bull Prize Won in Land Clearing Contest

Community Farm Club Cleared a Total Acreage of 304 Acres Last Season

"Zeus of Portage Lake" is the name of a registered Guernsey bull which was purchased by County Agent E. G. Roth for the Garrison-Roosevelt Farm Bureau Club, as a community prize in the land clearing contest held last season.

This fine bull was selected from a number that were considered, for its especially fine qualities, and makes an excellent prize for the progressive farm bureau club of the southeastern section of the county.

The Garrison-Roosevelt club won this prize with a total acreage cleared last season of 304 acres. There were fifteen members of the club in the contest, which made an average of twenty acres brushed, stumped and broken.

Ernest Persson is the director of this club, and was largely instrumental in the winning of the prize through his interest in the work and the way in which he directed the contest. ## PANIC DOORS FOR THE SCHOOLS

School Board at Special Meeting Orders Same Installed in Each School

VARIOUS BIDS ARE CONSIDERED

Improvements at Harrison Building Will Give a Fine Assembly Room

One of the most important actions taken at the special meeting of the Brainerd school board on Monday night was that to install panic doors in all entrances to each school building in the city.

This means that new vestibules and doors will be put in, and changes made in the entrances as may be required. This is the direct result of the visit of a committee from the Minnesota Fire Prevention Association, which inspected the school buildings last winter, bringing the matter to the attention of the board, and recommending the action which is being taken.

The board accepted bids for the furnishing of hardware for these new doors and vestibules of the Von Douprin make, considered to be one of the best in this line, and the secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for the installation of this work.

One of the purposes of Monday evening's meeting was to open bid for the fitting up of three additional rooms for school purposes, to receive further reports from the building committee and for consideration and action on same.

The bids for fitting up the school rooms were ordered returned to the bidders unopened, and the secretary was directed to re-advertise for this work, the new bids to be opened at the July 26th meeting of the board.

The building committee was authorized to place folding doors between the two north rooms on the second floor of the Harrison building. This action was taken so that the people of Southeast Brainerd will be given an assembly room similar to the one provided last year by the board in the Lowell school for the convenience of Northeast Brainerd residents.

All members of the board were present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson and Fred Drexler.

SCOUT COUNCIL IS ORGANIZED

Formal Steps Taken Monday Evening by Those Interested in County Boy Scout Matters

OFFICERS ARE NAMED

Reports Made by Committees, Financing Plans Completed, Scout Executive Engaged

The Crow Wing County Council, Boy Scouts of America, held a meeting at the Civic & Commerce Association rooms Monday evening, when President Carl Zapffe explained the steps necessary to complete the permanent organization.

A committee composed of President Zapffe, Vice President W. A. Erickson and E. J. Quinn will complete and send in necessary application to the National Council and they were authorized to draw on the treasury for the necessary registration fees.

Dr. C. G. Nordin, chairman of the finance committee, is preparing a budget for the council.

Scout Commissioner John F. Woodhead was elected representative of the local council to the national council.

W. H. Gemmell, announced the following appointments on the Court of Honor of which he is chairman: J. P. Anderson, John Holvick, Dr. J. A. Thabes, George D. LaBar, Louis Knutsen and Prof. W. C. Cobb.

W. A. M. Johnstone was elected second vice president.

It was decided that all bills should be O. K'd by the party contracting the debt and by the chairman of the finance committee before payment is made by Treasurer John A. Hoffbauer.

President Zapffe is to complete negotiations with the Civic & Commerce association for desk room for the executive secretary.

A contract will be made with E. W. Stimble, scout executive, for six months with renewal clause for the next six months. President Zapffe reported that the new scout executive was now in charge of the camp.

Mr. Zapffe further reported he had visited the camp at Long Lake and had a talk with the boys and the majority were well pleased with the experiences they were having. They said they had learned many useful and interesting things the first week. When the boys were questioned as to whether they got enough to eat there was a chorus of "Yes." "Everything is fine," "The best ever," etc. The past week has been a busy one for Mr. Stimble and Mr. Andrews in getting everything in good running order and now that this has been accomplished more time can be devoted to games and amusements for the boys.

Mosquito netting has been ordered and will be placed over the tents as soon as possible, which will relieve the unfortunate circumstance of having a big crop of mosquitoes at this time.

Other members who have visited the camp are John A. Hoffbauer, W. A. M. Johnstone, John F. Woodhead, W. H. Gemmell, Rev. E. A. Cooke.

STORM DOES NO DAMAGE AT CAMP

In Fact It Brought a Large Influx of Tourists Who Found Site a Haven

PRAISE HEARD FOR NEW PARK

L. G. Lewis of Albert Lea Said He Had Seen No Camp to Compare With That of Brainerd

The Brainerd tourist camp passed through the storm of Monday evening with no bad effects, although quite a little hail fell during the early part of the evening. The storm brought in a number of tourists who would otherwise have camped along the road, and the camp site was taxed to its utmost capacity.

L. G. Lewis, of the Lewis Printing Company of Albert Lea, one of the guests at the park, was loud in his praise of Brainerd's accommodations for travelers, stating that in his tour of the state, he has seen no camp that compares with the local equipment. Visitors are advertising this fact, says Mr. Lewis, and the city will benefit more from this than from any other form of publicity.

Following is the list of tourists who registered at the camp site on Monday, July 9th:

Camp Site Pictured in St. Paul Sunday Paper

Brainerd's tourist camp received special mention in last Sunday's St. Paul Pioneer Press in the form of an article accompanied by two pictures of the camp. In part the article stated:

"Brainerd's new tourist camp, which is to be known as Visitors Park, will be dedicated formally when the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association meets in that city July 28th. A fish dinner will constitute one of the principal features of the opening exercises.

"The camp is near the heart of the business section of the city, in a fine grove on the uplands of the Mississippi river, and is one of the most complete and up-to-date motor camp sites in Minnesota.

"The park is provided with so many conveniences that it is with difficulty that the caretaker can keep out Brainerd folk intent on picknicking there.

"There are many large canopy-top tables provided with built in seats, every table having a gas range so protected that the wind will not cause the flames to flare. Mains to these stoves have been laid by the Brainerd Gas & Electric company, and gas is supplied to tourists free of charge.

"City water is supplied also, and close by are concrete buildings equipped with shower baths and other conveniences that will be appreciated by motor tourists.

Ernest Persson is the director of this club, and was largely instrumental in the winning of the prize through his interest in the work and the way in which he directed the contest. Incidentally, Mr. Persson was second last year in the state land clearing contest, but unfortunately no second award was made.

"Zeus of Portage Lake" comes from exceptionally fine stock, and will make a very good sire for the herds in the Garrison-Roosevelt club. He was brought into the county this week, and will be taken care of by one of the members of the club, the others contributing to his upkeep.

Mr. Roth is making up a list of the other prize-winners in last season's contest, and this will be published at a later date.

350 ENTRANTS AT INWOOD GOLD TOURNEY

(By United Press)
Inwood Country Club, L. I., July 10.—Ninety-two professionals and amateur golf stars—the second batch in a field of 350 entrants—fought over the picturesque Inwood course today to determine the next 18-18 to qualify for the national open championship.

Jess Sweetser, Francis Ouimet and Joe Kirkwood were among the lot. The first to get away from the home tee were John McKenna of Belle Claire, N. Y., and Eddie Murphy, St. Joseph, Mo.

U. S. GOLFERS SAY ENGLAND WAS COLD

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, July 10.—The air was damp and chilly at Troon when the British open golf championships were held recently.

A cold rain poured down over the grass course and the Americans stood shivering while they made comment on British hospitality.

It seems they thought the British attitude toward them wasn't any better than the weather. On every hand they met obstacles that are not usually placed in the way of visitors.

A few hours before the qualifying round started, the Americans were relieved of their best club, the corrugated mashie, by edict of the governing board. They had been practicing with that club continuously. They could see no reason why the British let them practice with it up to the eve of the match and then took it away from them. They needed it badly on the wet course.

Everywhere they went, they say, they were neglected and, in some instances, derided. Several said before they left that they would never again return to England to play golf.

Gerald Patterson, who won the Wimbledon tennis championship last year, declared, after the tournament, that he would never go back, because of the treatment he said he suffered.

There must be some good reason for the change of sentiment. It is certainly not in retaliation for treatment of British athletes visiting the United States, though the number of these is small.

Some believe it may be prompted by resentment against the increasingly frequent successful invasion of England by American stars. Jock Hutchinson and Walter Hagen captured the open title two years. Before that, it was considered exclusively British. Americans won the Walker cup again this year.

At any rate the team from the United States cannot be accused of making these statements because of its comparatively poor showing. The thing reached such a stage that London sport writers are commenting upon it.

More and more Olympic material is bobbing up all the time. Boots Lever, star sprinter of Pennsylvania, ran the 60 yards recently in 6 4-5 seconds and then stepped 70 yards in 7 5-10 seconds for a new world record in both.

In Chicago, Walter Brookings ran the 220 low hurdles in 23 6-10 seconds for a new world mark. D. Hubbard of Michigan jumped 25 feet and 2 inches—just an inch less than the record.

Bob Shawkey is being hailed as the most valuable pitcher the New York Yankees ever had. He came to them in 1915, and in nine seasons since that time has won 124 games, losing only 88. The Yanks got him for a waiver price.

JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH RELEASED TO MEMPHIS

Memphis, July 10.—Pitchers "Cy" Warmouth and John Hollingsworth, have been released by the Washington American league club to Memphis of the Southern association. It was announced last night. Pitcher Monroe Mitchell of the Memphis club goes to Washington in the deal, and will join the Senators in St. Louis this week.

Champion Out to Fight Until He Is Licked

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 10.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, declared today that he stands ready to meet any qualified challenger in the world.

Reassured of his power of endurance, the one point in his ability of which, he said, fight fans have been skeptical—the champion announced that he was "out to fight"—until I am licked.

Proof of his endurance, Dempsey asserted was positive as the result of his 15 gruelling rounds with Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul fighter.

Defends Golf Crown

Minneapolis, July 10.—Harrison "Jimmy" Johnston, Minnesota amateur golf champion in 1921 and 1922 is ready to stand in defense of his crown which will be at stake in the 21st annual championship tournament at the White Bear Yacht club this week. Johnston is a decided favorite to win, a favorite against the field, which is a rare situation in golf and a fine tribute to his golfing ability. The rugged and hilly White Bear course offers rich rewards for long and accurate wooden club play and in this Johnston has no rival among the amateurs and very few if any superiors among the professionals.

2 COACHES OF WABASH SPILL N. Y. YANKEES BALL CLUB; NONE HURT

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 10.—Two coaches of a Wabash railroad train, bearing members of the New York Yankees baseball club, were derailed in the yards at Alton, Ill., early today. It was announced when the team arrived here to play the Chicago White Sox.

No one was injured, although occupants of the cars said they were somewhat "shaken up." A broken axle was said to have caused the derailment while the train was moving slowly.

S. D. LEAGUE PLANS TO DIVIDE SEASON

Minneapolis, July 10.—The South Dakota league will play its schedule in two sections it was decided at a meeting of the league held here.

The exact date of the end of the first section of the race will be determined at a meeting at Watertown. The league had been having financial trouble due to an uneven race and it is thought that, with a fresh start, the crowds will return.

KIRKWOOD SETS A NEW RECORD

Inwood Country Club, L. I., July 10.—Joe Kirkwood, the little Australian professional, set a new record of 70 over the sunbaked course here in the morning qualifying round of the national open championship.

A fatal blade of grass an inch from the 18th cup kept him from a 69.

The Human Side of Jake Preus

Some Little Known Facts About Minnesota's Best Known Public Man

There are few men or women in Minnesota who don't know Governor J. A. O. Preus personally or by reputation. Their acquaintance with him, however, is largely as State Auditor and Governor, where he has gained the most comprehensive knowledge of Minnesota's resources and problems of any man now living.

His early life was interesting. Born on a farm in Wisconsin, he went to school in Iowa, worked as a section hand, clerk and country school teacher in Minnesota, graduated from the University Law School, then married his boyhood sweetheart and at once entered public life as a clerk in the United States Senate.

The Governor has one son, Jack, of whom he is very fond. His home life is ideal. He is a deep student musical in his tastes, athletic and a pronounced baseball fan when duty and time permit. Most genial and kindly with his personal and official acquaintances, he is a typical Minnesota citizen, fond of his home, proud of his family and with an abiding faith in the future of our great State.

U. S. GOLFERS SAY ENGLAND WAS COLD

By PAUL R. MALLON

United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, July 10.—The air was damp and chilly at Troon when the British open golf championships were held recently.

A cold rain poured down over the grass course and the Americans stood shivering while they made comment on British hospitality.

It seems they thought the British attitude toward them wasn't any better than the weather. On every hand they met obstacles that are not usually placed in the way of visitors.

A few hours before the qualifying round started, the Americans were relieved of their best club, the corrugated masher, by edict of the governing board. They had been practicing with that club continuously. They could see no reason why the British let them practice with it up to the eve of the match and then took it away from them. They needed it badly on the wet course.

Everywhere they went, they say, they were neglected and, in some instances, derided. Several said before they left that they would never again return to England to play golf.

Gerald Patterson, who won the Wimbledon tennis championship last year, declared, after the tournament, that he would never go back, because of the treatment he said he suffered.

There must be some good reason for the change of sentiment. It is certainly not in retaliation for treatment of British athletes visiting the United States, though the number of these is small.

Some believe it may be prompted by resentment against the increasingly frequent successful invasion of England by American stars. Jack Hutchinson and Walter Hagen captured the open title two years. Before that, it was considered exclusively British. Americans won the Walker cup again this year.

At any rate the team from the United States cannot be accused of making these statements because of its comparatively poor showing. The thing reached such a stage that London sport writers are commenting upon it.

More and more Olympic material is bobbing up all the time. Boots Lever, star sprinter of Pennsylvania, ran the 60 yards recently in 6 4-5 seconds and then stepped 70 yards in 7 5-10 seconds for a new world record in both.

In Chicago, Walter Brooks ran the 220 low hurdles in 23 6-10 seconds for a new world mark. D. Hubbard of Michigan jumped 25 feet and 2 inches—just an inch less than the record.

Bob Shawkey is being hailed as the most valuable pitcher the New York Yankees ever had. He came to them in 1915, and in nine seasons since that time has won 124 games, losing only 88. The Yanks got him for a waiver price.

JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH RELEASED TO MEMPHIS

Memphis, July 10.—Pitchers "Cy" Warmouth and John Hollingsworth, have been released by the Washington American league club to Memphis of the Southern association, it was announced last night. Pitcher Monroe Mitchell of the Memphis club goes to Washington in the deal, and will join the Senators in St. Louis this week.

Champion Out to Fight Until He Is Licked

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 10.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, declared today that he stands ready to meet any qualified challenger in the world.

Reassured of his power of endurance, the one point in his ability of which, he said, fight fans have been skeptical—the champion announced that he was "out to fight"—until I am licked."

Proof of his endurance, Dempsey asserted was positive as the result of his 15 gruelling rounds with Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul fighter.

Defends Golf Crown

Minneapolis, July 10.—Harrison "Jimmy" Johnston, Minnesota amateur golf champion in 1921 and 1922 is ready to stand in defense of his crown which will be at stake in the 21st annual championship tournament at the White Bear Yacht club this week. Johnston is a decided favorite to win, a favorite against the field, which is a rare situation in golf and a fine tribute to his golfing ability. The rugged and hilly White Bear course offers rich rewards for long and accurate wooden club play and in this Johnston has no rival among the amateurs and very few if any superiors among the professionals.

2 COACHES OF WABASH SPILL N. Y. YANKEES BALL CLUB; NONE HURT

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 10.—Two coaches of a Wabash railroad train, bearing members of the New York Yankees baseball club, were derailed in the yards at Alton, Ill., early today, it was announced when the team arrived here to play the Chicago White Sox.

No one was injured, although occupants of the cars said they were somewhat "shaken up."

A broken axle was said to have caused the derailment while the train was moving slowly.

S. D. LEAGUE PLANS TO DIVIDE SEASON

Minneapolis, July 10.—The South Dakota league will play its schedule in two sections it was decided at a meeting of the league held here.

The exact date of the end of the first section of the race will be determined at a meeting at Watertown. The league had been having financial trouble due to an uneven race and it is thought that, with a fresh start, the crowds will return.

KIRKWOOD SETS A NEW RECORD

Inwood Country Club, L. L., July 10.—Joe Kirkwood, the little Australian professional, set a new record of 70 over the sunbaked course here in the morning qualifying round of the national open championship.

A fatal blade of grass an inch from the 18th cup kept him from a 69.

350 ENTRANTS AT INWOOD GOLD TOURNEY

(By United Press)
Inwood Country Club, L. L., July 10.—Ninety-two professionals and amateur golf stars—the second batch in a field of 350 entrants—fought over the picturesque Inwood course today to determine the next 18 1-8 to qualify for the national open championship.

Joe Kirkwood, Francis Ouimet and Jess Sweetser, were among the lot. The first to get away from the home tee were John McKenna of Belle Claire, N. Y., and Eddie Murphy, St. Joseph, Mo.

The Ananias Club, "No," admitted the great statesman, "the papers did not misquote me. I really did say the idiotic things they say I did."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Wise Isaac Walton, I remember that a wise friend of mine did say, "That which is every body's business is nobody's business."—Isaac Walton.

Valuable Telephone Number. In Tokyo there is a telephone number which sells annually for several hundred dollars—the number is eight—because the character representing it spreads downwards and suggests prosperity.
